Recycle Contamination: What is it, and what can I do to stop it.

It may be a cliché, but when your grandmother said “one bad apple can spoil the whole barrel” she was right, especially when it comes to recycling. Putting the wrong or tainted materials into your recycling bin can not only send a whole truckload to the landfill instead of the recycling facility, it can cost the City additional money in landfill fees and fines.

Delaware Solid Waste Authority (DSWA) monitors materials as they are unloaded from trash and recycle haulers, and asks us to keep these items OUT of your Recycling Cart.

Styrofoam * Motor Oil Containers *
Chemical Containers * Ceramics &
Dishes * Lightbulbs * Window Glass &

Mirrors * Yard Waste * Food Waste *
Electronics * Plastic Bags/Plastic
Film (you can take grocery bags back to the store, start now using cloth bags.)
Please be aware, City workers will not empty any recycle bins that have non-recyclable materials or garbage in them. If your bin is not emptied it will need to be removed from the street, and brought out again for your next trash day.

What about Pizza Boxes, Used Paper Towels and Plates

Food and food residue is one of the worst contaminants in the recycling process. Many people assume that pizza boxes are recyclable. However, what makes parts of them non-recyclable is the hot, tasty treat that comes inside them, specifically, the grease and cheese from pizza that soil the cardboard. Please, only recycle paper products that no not have food residue on them.
