

Brian Mattaway has almost two decades of experience in Corporate Finance and is a trained professional with technical backgrounds in Sales Management, Organizational Leadership, and Communications. He is a proud graduate of Purdue University who works as a Trust Officer and Vice President that is tasked with providing administration and governance solutions to clients, professional advisors and family offices. Brian loves the City of New Castle, its residents, history and promise. He can often be found volunteering at a city event, spending time with his wife and children or supporting a local business.